CRIMINALS PUT TO PLEA

OPENING OF THE JULY TERM OF CRIMINAL SUPERIOR COURT.

Caruso Pleaded Guilty to the Charge of Murder in the Second Degree and was Sentenced to State Prison for Life—Other Cases Disposed Of.

The July term of the superior court, criminal side, came in yesterday afternoon with Judge Elias Robinson of Middletown on the bench and a dock full of prisoners. The court was opened with prayer by Rabbi Levy of the Court street synagogue, after which the prisoners were put to plea as follows:

John Moran of New Haven pleaded guilty to the charge of statutory burglary and was sentenced to six months in jail. William R. Donegan, New Haven, burglary, not guilty; Richard Sturgis, New Haven, theft, not guilty; Eugene A. Oliver and Charles E. Osborn, New Haven, burglary, not guilty; John Henchey, New Haven, assault, not guilty; Joseph Adams, Milford, assault, not guilty; Michael O'Donnell, Frederick H. Root and L. Sorn, three North Haven boys, obstructing railroad track, not guilty.

Walter H. Fowler of Guilford, charged with stealing fifty hens, fifty chickens and fifty roosters from Richard Foote of Guilford, pleaded not guilty. Fowler's father is of the opinion that his son is insane and a physician will examine him later in the term. The case against Ernest S. Miles of Milford, surety of the peace, was nolle. Lucius W. Potter, New Haven, theft, pleaded not guilty; John H. Thompson of Seymour, horsestealing, not guilty; John Glynn, Milford, burglary, four counts, not guilty; Frederick Root, New Haven, burglary, not guilty. Henry S. McKenzie, New Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft, third offense, and was sentenced to three months in jail. Lorenzo Caruso, who was under indictment for murder in the first degree for killing Raffaele Del Greco in a Hill street saloon last winter, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to state prison for life.

At the request of State Attorney Doolittle, Judge Robinson instructed Clerk Anketell to issue a venire for a grand jury for next Tuesday. The grand jury will consider the evidence in the case against Daniel F. Early and Luigi Di Capria, charged with murder in the first degree.

The case of Charles F. Church, charged with theft, third offense, was nolle. Hugh J. McCabe, charged with burglary in Patrick Lee's barn, pleaded not guilty.

Frank H. Reynolds pleaded not guilty to theft of $60 from John Freyer. Fred Wilson pleaded guilty of burglary in Meriden and was sentenced to six months in state prison.

Charles Corbett of Meriden, charged with theft, pleaded not guilty. John M. Moran pleaded guilty of burglary and was sentenced to six months in jail.

William Shepard of Meriden, charged with theft, pleaded not guilty. The trial of William H. Piggles of Brooklyn, N. Y., charged with bigamy, will not be tried in this state, but Piggles will be released to Brooklyn officers for trial in the state where the crime was committed.

After these cases had been disposed of court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when the regular trials of cases will be commenced.

City Court—Criminal Side—Judge Stanley Rufus T. Cooper, indecent assault (two cases), continued until July 5; John Clark, theft, third offense, continued until July 3; James Keegan, breach of the peace, discharged; Frederick W.
